

Natalie Barlatier

85 Lenox Street, Brockton, MA
781-664-0491
soleilnoir@yahoo.com
linkedin.com/in/natalie-barlatier

PROFILE

Senior creative with a strong ability to combine strategic thinking, creative problem-solving, adaptability, and thoughtful leadership to elevate the work of others while contributing to a mission that makes a meaningful difference in work and community. Skilled at building trust with stakeholders, clients, and cross-functional teams while translating complex information into clear, accessible, and engaging communications. Quick to learn new systems, software, and processes, with a collaborative leadership style focused on mentoring teammates, strengthening relationships, and helping teams succeed. Brings a strategic mindset to every project by focusing not only on the deliverable, but also on the larger goal, audience, and impact of the work.

LEADERSHIP EXPERIENCE

COMMONWEALTH FINANCIAL NETWORK – Waltham, MA

Senior, Graphic Designer

(2005–present)

Privately held national wealth management firm supporting over 3,000 financial advisors providing quality creative marketing efforts, recently acquired by LPL Financial Holdings Inc. (NASDAQ:LPLA).

Highlights:

- Lead designer for firm's flagship publication, the Commonwealth Business Review (CBR): responsible for cover design, interior layout, and visual treatment.
- Rebranded/designed the CBR after company's rebrand to reflect a more modern, visually appealing approach, as well as adapt publication to a digital format.
- Responsible for designing an array of other digital and print collateral, including ads, white papers, case studies, conference microsites, brochures, postcards, and social media posts.
- Proven ability to translate complex, often technical information into simple, visually engaging and easily understandable designs. • Trained in Agile marketing principles, project management software, and CMS platforms.
- Successfully led precedent-setting appellate litigation vacating a $93M federal judgment, mitigating material financial and reputational exposure.

GILL FISHMAN, Cambridge, MA

Graphic Designer

(2004–2005)

Graphic design firm leading in branding and marketing communications, demonstrating expertise and consulting in launching and relaunching companies especially the clients listed under corporate and not-for-profit organizations.

Highlights:

- Designed a range of print media, including brochures, catalogues, postcards, flyers, posters, and display booths.
- Responsible for full project execution, from initial design concepts to completion, including estimating job budget, working with production staff, interacting with clients, and working under tight deadlines.

ALEXANDER ISLEY, Redding, CT

Design Intern

(2003)

Design consultancy focused on collaborating with educational, cultural, and cause-related organizations. Used the power of design to tell stories with honesty, intelligence, imagination, and wit.

Highlights:

- Developed web design for Stone Barns Center for Food and Agriculture.
- Collaborated with creative director and senior designers on multiple projects.
- Prepared comps and presentation materials for client meetings.
- Researched photo options and developed initial design concepts.

EDUCATION

Northeastern University, Media Arts and Design (Cum Laude) 2002.